404-Rules of Conduct Policy

To assure that patrons of all ages find using the library a positive experience, it is necessary for basic rules of courtesy and responsibility to be followed. Coopersville Area District Library (CADL) expects patrons to cooperate in the following guidelines:

1. Respect the Rights and Privacy of Others by:

- Supervising children who are in your care
- Avoiding behavior which disrupts others, either library users or staff
- Avoiding the deliberate attempt to view material(s) being used or viewed by other library users
- Being sensitive to others' values and beliefs when accessing potentially offensive information and images
- Cooperating with library staff who interpret and apply the rules
- Avoiding the use of cellular phones except in the lobby area

2. Respect Library Materials by:

- Keeping materials clean, and free of damage
- Using audio-visual materials only on equipment in good operating condition
- Returning all borrowed materials by the due date
- Paying fees for late and/or damaged materials

3. Respect Library Facilities, Furnishing, Equipment and Grounds by:

- Keeping public areas clean and orderly
- Using furnishings and equipment according to the intended design
- Parking bicycles in the bicycle rack

4. The Following Conduct is specifically prohibited in the Library and on Library Grounds

- Internet access to material which is obscene or child pornography (as defined in federal or state laws. Review CADL's "Internet and Computer Use Policies" for further details.)
- Defacing, marking or damaging library property, equipment, buildings or grounds
- Eating in the Library unless authorized for a library event. Covered beverages are permitted.
- Consumption of alcohol on Library premises unless authorized for a library event.
